Of course this never happened to you, but it may. Driver of car in front of you stops to let "mamma" out so she can do some shopping. "Mamma" starts and then papa calls, "hey." He had forgotten something. That's all right for "mamma" and papa, but how about the fellow following who had to jam on the brakes and do a quick turn to make up for papa's lapse of memory? Oh, yes, I know what he said.

Propositioned Al Honer to trade him this year's income on oranges for a house and lot. There has been such an ominous silence on his part I decided the proposal was refused without a word being said.

"Gonna rain, Skinny?" inquires the fellow. As if I would venture to invade the sacred precincts of the weather man. I rather find fault with him.

Spurgeon Sparks, youngest member of a local club, has been elected treasurer. Another opportunity which I failed to knock. Too late now.

Elmer Heidt brings Johnny Landell into the office, and I know his father, which is nothing against Johnny. Fact is from other sources I know of a fine citizenship has come to me. And where's Elmer? He's all right, too.

Calling Martin Murray, calling Martin Murray. I would like a copy of his weather forecasts.

Well, anyway, Hitler put a night force on at Rand-McNally's.

That alleged mysterious disappearance of District Attorney Burton Pitts reported over a nationwide broadcast got a quick answer and apology. At the time of the "mysterious disappearance" Pitts was being entertained by a few of the judges of the Los Angeles superior court.

Anyway, no one has asked for my ticket to the world series.

Legal determinations, especially in oil leases, have longer lives and more of them than the proverbial cat. I have a friend who went into a lease which he thought included royalties on the entire acreage. Then another fellow moved in and brought up some oil and kept it all. Now my friend wants to know where his part of the oil is, and some slow day the courts will tell him.

Bob Andrews calls and wants to know if I received a copy of a club publication, and if I made a story about it, and if I expected to attend the meeting, and if there was anything wrong with me, and that's when I refused to talk.

What has become of that old gang of mine which used to bring a few easy chairs and sit around the blackboard to watch the runs, hits and errors in the world series? Well, now you'll find 'em sitting around a radio.

Invitation to caddy for a few friends who thought they were golf players. They could make a mistake as well as I could. So we quite even.

An evening with the Peace Officers Association of Orange county is at least protection. Nobody asked me to buy a ticket for anything.

Paul Vissman in to find out what the chance for using the column for politics. The merest chance, I told him. Propaganda must be well concealed to get by this department. I have in my time written so much of it, that it still smells.

And the fellow who put the baby's shoes in world series pools hasn't been able to explain the investment to the satisfaction of mother. The baby hasn't said anything, but oh, what mother said.

Four hundred and forty-six years ago next Wednesday Columbus called. He hasn't been back since. That's what he thinks about us, or is it?

Sorry, but I haven't any jurisdiction in the trash collection business. There is a department of city government where the case can be handled with authority, and I am sure to your satisfaction. We have an obliging personnel.

Homers By Crosetti and DiMaggio Win for Yankees

Dizzy Driven Off Hill

WRIGLEY FIELD, CHICAGO. (AP) — Booming home runs by Frankie Crosetti and Joe DiMaggio in the last two innings, each with a mate on base, drove Dizzy Dean from the hill and gave the New York Yankees their second straight world series victory over the disheartened Chicago Cubs, 6 to 3, before a crowd of 42,108 this chilly day.

Following is the play by play detail of today's game:

FIRST INNING

Yankees — Dean's first pitch to Crosetti was a called strike. Crosetti then sent a long fly to Reynolds who took the ball with his back almost against the left field wall. Dean made a nice stop on Rolfe's bunt and threw to Collins to retire him in a close play. Jurgens went back on the grass to take Henrich's fly. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Cubs — The crowd cheered as Hack, first man up, came to bat for the Cubs. Hack dropped a single in left and another loud cheer went up. Herman struck out, swinging at a sharp breaking curve. Demaree singled between first and second base into right field sending Hack to third. When Rolfe fumbled Henrich's throw-in Demaree went to second but Hack held third. It was an

SPY EVIDENCE HELD 'TOO HOT'

NEW YORK. (AP) — Evidence which a defense lawyer described as "too hot" to send through diplomatic channels was brought back from Germany by a federal commission today for the trial of four alleged members of an international espionage ring.

George C. Dix, who returned with three federal investigators aboard the German liner Europa, said testimony taken in Berlin would "completely exonerate" his client, Johnny Hofmann, 25 former beauty salon operator on the liner Bremen who is awaiting trial on charges of being the "pay-off" agent for the spy ring.

The federal men, Assistant U. S. Attorneys John W. Burke and Lester C. Dunigan and Special Agent John T. MacLaughlin, declined to comment.

Trial of Miss Hofmann and the three other defendants had been postponed until Oct. 14, to await their arrival.

The federal commission went aboard to take testimony from Dr. Ignatz T. Griebel, former New York physician and a lieutenant in the United States army medical reserve, who fled to Germany after he had been indicted on spy charges.

Japs Confiscate Church Property, Methodist Says

CHICAGO. (AP) — Dr. Ralph E. Diffendorfer, New York, corresponding secretary of the Methodist Episcopal church's board of foreign missions, announced today he had just received word a "state of emergency" has been declared in the church's work in Japan and Korea.

Addressing the Rock River conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, Dr. Diffendorfer said the Japanese government had confiscated church property, especially in Korea, and that "dozens of ministers and church workers" had been imprisoned.

He said this was true not only of Methodist church workers but of other Christian denominations as well.

Woman Clings to 2nd Story Ledge

SEATTLE. (AP) — Sight of a young woman, clad only in a pair of stockings, clinging to a second floor hotel window ledge drew a large crowd here today. After hanging several minutes, the young woman appeared relinquishing her grasp when Patrolman L. G. Gardner grasped her wrists and drew her to safety. She registered at the hotel last night as Miss Helen Murphy.

10-Day Vagrancy Sentence Disappoints Man Who Sought Longer Term as Burglar

John Schmid, 67-year-old transient, was disappointed today at the treatment he received at the hands of City Judge J. G. Mitchell. Informed he was charged with vagrancy, he was surprised and disappointed. "But judge, I thought I was arrested for burglary."

Despite his expectations, he was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail for vagrancy—not burglary. Schmid was arrested early yesterday morning by Santa Ana police after he had smashed a window in a liquor store at Third and Broadway. He told officers he wanted to go to jail so he would eat regularly.

He said he had nothing to eat for a week except tomatoes and walnuts which he picked in fields.

BRITISH OFFER DEAL TO ITALY

ROME. (AP) — Diplomatic sources said today Great Britain had submitted proposals for an accord with Italy in the fourth successive daily call by Lord Perth, British ambassador, on Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano.

Details of the plan to make effective immediately a settlement of Anglo-Italian differences were not ascertained.

Since the Anglo-Italian Easter agreement made conditional upon the withdrawal of Italian forces from Spain, it was believed the British government might have proposed to Italy to withdraw at least some of the infantrymen fighting for Insurgent Generalissimo Franco.

SPAIN TO KEEP ON FIGHTING

BARCELONA. (AP) — Julio Alvarez Del Vayo, Spanish government foreign minister, declared today that government Spain was determined to avoid the fate of Czechoslovakia and to fight until the county is "free from foreign invasion."

In an address prepared for international broadcast Alvarez Del Vayo asserted:

"The terrible and monstrous experience of what has taken place in Europe within the last few days has increased the Spanish people's resolution not to permit Spain to be sacrificed to the policy of capitulation."

"This policy of capitulation, he said, 'menaces the existence of small nations and places European democracies in ever increasing danger of disappearing.'"

Court Fines Owner; Driver Is Immune

WASHINGTON. (AP) — Police couldn't do much about it when they stopped Ricardo C. Canas for speeding in suburban Bethesda, Canas, as the son of the Costa Rican minister, was entitled to diplomatic immunity.

Justice of the Peace Ernest D. Houghton came up with the solution. Finding that the car Canas was driving belonged to Blackstone Smith, Houghton fined Smith $26.45 for letting Canas go too fast.

R. L. Bisby Stricken Suddenly

Robert L. Bisby, prominent business man of Santa Ana, passed away suddenly last night. He was 71 years of age.

Born in Shreveport, La., Mr. Bisby came to this city 40 years ago where he was connected with several businesses. He later managed the St. Anne's inn, and was manager of the Santa Ana hotel at the time of his death. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Grace S. Bisby.

SERVICES FRIDAY

Christian Science services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. from Winbiger's Memorial chapel, followed by cremation at Fairhaven cemetery.

His passing removes from the business, fraternal, social and spiritual life of the community a prominent and valued citizen.

FORMERLY IN L. B.

The Bisby's came to Southern California shortly after the San Francisco earthquake, locating in Long Beach, where Mr. Bisby engaged in business. His firm faith in the southland was so expressive and confident that he was given the position of secretary of the chamber of commerce, and rendered to that city an effective service.

In 1913 he resigned and came to Santa Ana, where for many years he was the popular host of Saint Anne's inn.

RETURNS 5 YEARS AGO

When that property was sold to the county Mr. Bisby went to Los Angeles and remained there for several years, returning to this city five years ago, and taking the management of the Santa Ana hotel.

Fraternally he was affiliated with Masonic bodies, a blue lodge Masonic, member of the Scottish Rite, and for approximately 40 years a member of Al Malaikah temple.

In his church he held positions of honor and responsibility.

Frank Shields and N. Y. Broker Fight In N. Y. Night Spot

NEW YORK. (AP) — Cafe society was talking about a new fistfight champion today — the doubtful honors resting on the handsome brow of Frank X. Shields, tennis star, socialite and Hollywood actor.

Shields won the title in a fast one-round go with Yulian and Broker James D. S. Coleman in the foyer of El Morocco, one of the town's most glamorous night spots.

The beginning was vague as such things usually are. Coleman and Shields started outside to settle the affair. The end came quickly when Shields served a hard ace to Coleman's eye.

LOS ANGELES. (AP) — She was wed in a wheelchair. Her honeymoon will be spent in a hospital. But Marie Nogaim, 26, of El Paso, Tex., was a cheery bride today.

Two weeks ago she hurt her back, in a train crash at Niland, Calif., in which several other passengers were killed.

Last night she was wheeled to an improvised hospital altar, where a minister married her to John Kabbas, 35, of Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES. (AP) — "All the big shots have left town," is the way Chief of Police Davis today explained why only the lesser fry of the vice world in Los Angeles have been arrested.

"All the big fellows in gambling and bookmaking have suddenly become very hard to find," the chief said.

A series of raids has netted many small time gamblers, punch board operators and prostitutes.

Paris Turns Down Balloon Defense

PARIS. (AP) — The French government rejected today the suggestion of the Paris city fathers that this capital be protected by an eight-mile screen of captive balloons linked with cables and wire all around the Metropolitan area.

The government's reply said 3000 balloons and a ground crew of 40,000 men, with an initial cost of 2,000,000,000 francs (about $52,000,000), would be necessary to carry out such a scheme.

New Threat of War Nets Nazis More Territory

5000 Square Miles Will Be Added To Germany Despite Protests

BERLIN. (AP) — The international Sudetenland commission handed Adolf Hitler a choice new section of Czechoslovakia today, half as large as the Munich four-power conference gave him outright.

It marked out a "fifth zone" which Hitler's armies could take over without formally as German troops marched into the fourth.

With the fifth zone defined there has fallen into Hitler's lap approximately 20,000 square miles of rich territory, including populous cities. Of this about three-fourths had been assigned him outright by the Munich conference in the form of the four zones to be occupied by the German army between Oct. 1 and Oct. 8. The other one-fourth, approximately 5000 miles of the new fifth zone, was marked for his possession by the international commission meeting at Berlin under a German chairman last night. It is to be occupied by the German army by Monday, Oct. 10.

It will bring the new frontier of expanding Germany to within 30 miles of Prague, Czechoslovakia's capital, at one point, at Leitmeritz.

In addition, Hitler has a good chance of augmenting the German reich still further after plebiscites which the Munich conference agreed must be conducted by the end of November.

ENTER FOURTH ZONE

The military subcommittee assisting the international commission assembled today to fix exactly the boundary line of the territory ceded Germany yesterday by the commission and to work out a plan for the gradual occupation of this territory by the German army before Oct. 10.

A few hours later the supreme army command announced that German troops had crossed the former German-Czechoslovak frontier for occupation of the fourth zone on the schedule agreed upon by the four-power conference at Munich Sept. 30.

THREATEN WAR

(Berlin dispatches published in Paris said Czechoslovak and British members of the international commission had been told by Germany that they could grant Germany the new territories or Nazi armies would take it—even at the risk of a war which the Munich accord was designed to prevent.)

(These reports said the Munich accord, which had been explained to the French people as a "peace with honor," by constant German pressure had now been converted to almost exactly the terms of Hitler's Godesberg ultimatum—demanding cession of certain Sudeten territories by Oct. 1.)

Chancellor Hitler, on a visit to the second zone of occupation, arrived at Goerlitz at 8:13 a. m. and was greeted by a jubilant populace.

NEW DEMANDS

GENEVA. (AP) — The Czechoslovak delegation to the League of Nations announced that the German members of the international Sudetenland commission at Berlin had drawn up new demands for the cession of territory beyond that contemplated by the accord of Munich.

A communique issued by the delegation said that the Germans were demanding that industrial and communications centers with a total Czech population of 815,000 either be occupied immediately by German troops or made subject to plebiscite.

CZECH AREA TAKEN

The Czechoslovak communique said that included in territory which Germany demands for immediate occupation are cities and towns in which the population is ethnically "purely Czech."

It asserted that the German members of the commission demanded that plebiscites be held in

HOUSE VOTES CONFIDENCE IN CHAMBERLAIN

LONDON. (AP) — The house of commons today voted confidence in Prime Minister Chamberlain and approved his bargain of Munich for keeping Europe out of war. The final vote was 386 to 144.

The house, by a majority of two and a half to one, answered "yes" to Chamberlain's demand for approval of his historic conduct of British affairs during the recent crisis, which, he said, saved Czechoslovakia from destruction and Europe from armageddon.

Earlier a labor motion disapproving that policy as one which "led to the sacrifice of Czechoslovakia under the threat of armed forces and the humiliation of our country" had been defeated by 389 to 150.

The house adjourned until Nov. 1 amid a tremendous ovation for Chamberlain.

The prime minister left the chamber smiling and waving acknowledgments.

The defeated labor motion was an amendment to the government motion for a vote of confidence.

The two votes followed four days of debate on the crisis and the four power agreement which ended it, marked by vigorous government defense and bitter opposition assaults in which some members of the prime minister's own conservative party joined.

Chamberlain himself wound up the debate, declaring he was opposed to a general election, which, he said, tends to "magnify differences."

"Possibly we may want great efforts from the nation in months to come," he said. "If that be so, the smaller the differences the better."

Wells Urges Noble Prize to Benes

LONDON. (AP) — H. G. Wells suggested in a letter to the London Times today that former President Benes of Czechoslovakia be given the Nobel peace prize.

The British historian and author wrote, "I think every intelligent man and woman will turn with gratitude to Doctor Benes, to whose moderation and wisdom our respite is so manifestly due."

Industry Eager to Co-operate to Win Economic Recovery

NO SABER WILL BE RATTLED, F. D. R. IS TOLD

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Administration officials, concerned with establishing harmony among business, labor and government, received assurance today that industry was eager to cooperate for economic recovery.

Charles M. Hook, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, said in a statement that there would be "no rattling of any industrial saber," so far as the manufacturers were concerned. "With encouragement from leaders in public life," he said, "business optimism would rise rapidly."

At Hyde Park this week President Roosevelt was represented as believing that government, business and labor should compose their differences by substituting peaceful negotiations for "name-calling" and "saber-rattling."

Commenting on the President's attitude, Hook said the manufacturers "are extremely eager for a furthering of a more cooperative attitude among leaders of government, labor, industry, agriculture and other groups in order to help a business recovery get underway."

In other quarters, reaction to the President's view was mixed. John D. M. Hamilton, Republican national chairman, blamed "name-calling" by the Roosevelt administration for the business slump beginning last fall. "Unrestrained denunciation," he said, had been heaped on "legitimate business and free enterprise for five long years."

The statement of President Roosevelt's views of Hyde Park included labor's internal strife among the sore spots that might be healed by peaceful discussion. Developments on labor's warring fronts yesterday indicated, however, that peace was further away than ever before.

John L. Lewis, chairman, issued a call for the first general convention of the Committee for Industrial Organization. Some labor observers said that if the C. I. O. unions, which broke with the American Federation of Labor three years ago, form a permanent organization they doubted the two groups ever could be brought together.

At the capitol, several legislators suggested that peace between labor's warring factions would have to precede the establishment of harmony between business and labor.

"The first big job is to get labor united," Senator Logan (D., Ky.) asserted. "Then, labor could be brought together with industry."

areas in which Germans represent only two-tenths to six and a half per cent of the population.

"To support their thesis," the communiqué continued, "the Germans are using statistics established before the World war by the Austro-Hungarian empire."

(The commission agreed to accept population figures of Oct. 28, 1918—date of Czechoslovakia's foundation—but many observers said this actually meant reverting to the census of 1910.)

JUST GERMAN OFFICIALLY

The Czechs contend that these figures did not take into account the real language of the people but only the language which Austrian law made official. Since officials of the Sudeten region here German-speaking appointees the statistics show many regions having purely Czech populations to be German.

The communiqué said that when the system of statistics was changed Oct. 18, 1918 and each district was left to choose its own official language many elected to make Czech the official tongue.

error for Rolfe. DiMaggio backed against the wall in left center to take Marty's fly. Hack scoring after the catch. Demaree went to third on the throw-in. Reynolds struck out on a low inside pitch. One run, two hits, one error, one left.

SECOND INNING

Yankees — Dean was throwing nothing but slow "stuff" to the Yankees. Manager Joe McCarthy came out of the Yankee dugout as the team came to bat and had Umpire Sears tell the fans in the box seats along the right field line to take their coats off the wall. DiMaggio singled over Jurgens' head into left center. It was his first hit of the series. The Cub bullpen became busy as Gehrig went to bat. Two pitchers, catcher Larry French and the veteran right-hander, Jack Russell, started to warm up.

Gehrig walked on five pitches. Hartnett and Dean conferred near the mound. Dickey filed to Jurgens who again went back on the grass to make the catch. Marty came all the way over to short right field and took Selkirk's fly and the crowd went wild as Dizzy appeared to be pitching his way out of a tight spot. Marty called time as the sun came out wanly and went in to get a pair of sun glasses on the Cub bench. Hack and Jurgens collided in going after Gordon's easy roller and it rolled all the way into left field for a two base hit. DiMaggio and Gehrig both scored on the play. Gomez filed to Reynolds in short left. Two runs, two hits, no errors, one left.

Cubs — Hartnett sent a long fly to Henrich in right. With a southpaw pitching, Collins, a switch hitter, shifted to a right hand batter. Collins bounced a single off Rolfe's glove. Jurgens forced Collins at second, Rolfe to Gordon but Jurgens was safe at first on the fielders' choice. Crossetti threw out Dean on a nice play. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

THIRD INNING

Yankees — Reynolds ran all the way to the left field corner to take Crossetti's fly. Herman took Rolfe's bouncer and threw him out. Herman also threw out Henrich and the crowd roared as Dizzy's "nuthin'" ball was definitely hand-cuffing the Yankees hitters. His curve was breaking more than a foot as it crossed the plate. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Cubs — Hack beat out an infield hit. The ball went by Rolfe but Crossetti, backing up the play, was too late to catch the runner. Herman's bouncer went to Crossetti near second base and the Cubs second baseman beat it out for a single. Hack stopped at second. Demaree bunted and Dickey threw him out. Dickey fell fielding the ball and threw to Gehrig, while lying on his side. Hack and Herman advanced on the play. It was a sacrifice for Demaree. Marty doubled to deep center scoring Hack and Herman to put the Cubs in front. Dickey and Gomez went into a tussle. As Gomez's first three pitches to Reynolds were balls, Bump Hadly started to warm up in the Yankee bullpen. Reynolds walked on five pitches and again Dickey and Gomez conferred.

DiMaggio raced around and took Hartnett's fly in short center, the runners holding their bases. Gomez then proceeded to pull himself together and fanned Collins on three fast pitches. Two runs, three hits, no errors, two left.

FOURTH INNING

Yankees — DiMaggio fouled to Hartnett in front of the first base line boxes. Gehrig stepped out of the batter's box several times as something got in his eye. Collins fell chasing Gehrig's grounder and it rolled into right field for a single. Dickey bounced into a fast double play, Herman to Jurgens to Collins. The Cub infield was clicking at a much better rate than yesterday's game. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Cubs — Jurgens grounded to Rolfe and was out at first by a shade. Dean received a fine ovation as he came to the plate. He drove the first pitch between Rolfe and Crossetti into left field for a single. Joe McCarthy signaled the fanned, on a wide curve. He

FOOLS RUSH IN PROBE IS UP AGAIN FRIDAY

Grand jury investigation of the "Fools Rush In" case lagged today, as jurors met only briefly yesterday afternoon and adjourned to tomorrow morning.

The inquisitors, called early to investigate libel contained in the political pamphlet distributed just before the primary election, were reported still probing activities of G. F. McKelvey, now-suspended deputy sheriff, in connection with a second pamphlet prepared from a Los Angeles county grand jury transcript of 14 years ago.

McKelvey's story that he withdrew the transcript only to read it, and his insistence that he did not have it photostated, still were being probed by the jury. It was believed the jurors would call Miss Gertrude Sincce, secretary to a Los Angeles police captain, with whom McKelvey said he left the transcript overnight. Miss Sincce already has substantiated the deputy's statement, but it was believed she would be questioned further about it.

Jurors met for less than half an hour yesterday afternoon, emerging once to find out the World Series baseball score, and then leaving the courthouse in a body, their destination unrevealed.

swung so hard at the ball that he sat down on the plate. Marty's third hit of the game was a single to right and the Cub cheering section, plunged in gloom by Crossetti's homer, came to life again. Reynolds rolled into a double play, Gordon to Crossetti to Gehrig. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

NINTH INNING

Yankees — Henrich slashed a single to right. DiMaggio smashed a home run over the left field wall and into the street beyond scoring Henrich in front of him. The ball went out of the park about ten feet above the wall and some 25 inside the left field foul line. That was enough for Dizzy.

Reynolds rolled into a double play, Gordon to Crossetti to Gehrig. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Cubs — As Dean came to bat the crowd cheered for a full minute. Dean's second straight hit was a single to right. Hack tried to bunt but fouled two straight pitches. Hack then was called out on strikes. He protested to Umpire Kolls but it did no good as usual. Herman struck out, swinging at a sharp curve which he missed by six inches. Dean was caught napping off first base and was put out, Gomez to Gordon. Gomez ran over to trap him between first and second and Gordon who had been covering the bases, took Gomez's throw and chased Dizzy putting the ball on him ten yards off first. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

EIGHTH INNING

Yankees — Selkirk lined a single to right. Gordon forced Selkirk, Hack to Herman but Gordon was safe at first on the fielders' choice, just beating Herman's attempt at a double play. Myril Hoag, a right hand hitter, batted for Gomez. Herman took Hoag's grounder and threw to Jurgens, forcing Gordon. The batter was safe on the fielders' choice. Dean made several vain attempts to catch Hoag off first. After fouling off eight pitches and with the count three and two Crossetti smashed a home run into the bleachers in left scoring Hoag in front of him and putting the Yankees ahead. The ball travelled some 350 feet. Crossetti had hit only nine homers during the regular 1938 season. Rolfe was called out on strikes. Two runs, two hits, no errors, none left.

Cubs — Johnny Murphy, square jawed right hand relief pitching ace of the Yankees, was the New York pitcher. The sun was both-ering the infielders. Demaree, single. Joe McCarthy signaled the fanned, on a wide curve. He

Posse Puts forcible End to Steeplejack's Sitdown Strike On Top of Courthouse Dome

ANDERSON, Ind. (AP)—A sheriff's posse put a forcible end early today to the 16-hour sitdown strike of J. G. Stafford, itinerant steeplejack, on the Madison county courthouse dome here.

Stafford climbed the flagpole on the dome, 250 feet above the public square, yesterday morning and shouted to spectators below that he would stay there until county commissioners agreed to pay $150 they owed him.

This morning Deputy Sheriff Fred B. Gossett and five helpers slipped up and seized Stafford as he rested, half asleep, inside the steeple just beneath the dome. He had moved from the pole shortly after midnight.

Stafford told onlookers commissioners had paid him $350 for painting the courthouse dome and clock last June and then at their request he had given $150 of it back as a Democratic campaign contribution.

In return for this, he said, they promised they would give him more work. He claimed they hadn't lived up to their promise. Commissioners called his claims "preposterous." They said he had got the $350 his contract called for and had kept all of it. County Auditor John J. Reddington showed a canceled check to prove Stafford had been paid.

EXTRADITION PAPER DRAWN

Extradition of Mike Grogan, 36-year-old transient junk collector in Batavia, N. Y., for an 11-year-old Santa Ana murder, was being prepared today by Dist. Atty. W. F. Menton and Sheriff Logan Jackson.

Grogan, who assertedly admitted the murder when questioned by Batavia police, is said to have agreed not to fight extradition.

He will be returned here by deputy sheriffs to face trial for the killing June 14, 1927 of Clayton Sharritz, 56-year-old "junker," on the banks of the Santa Ana river near the county hospital.

Selkirk in the Yankees' half of the ninth should have been a base on balls not a hit batsman. Word came up from the Yankee dugout that he was not hit by a pitch, but had wrenched his back in pulling away from an inside ball. Hartnett filed out to Henrich in deep right. Gordon dropped Collins' grounder but recovered in time to throw him out. Jurgens walked on five pitches. Jake Powell had taken Selkirk's place in left field for the Yankees at the start of the inning. Phil Cavaretta, a left hand hitter, batted for French. Cavaretta rolled a single through Gordon's legs, Jurgens going to second. Hack lined up Crossetti, the shortstop taking the ball off his shoe tops. No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

IT'S TO READ IN BED... IF YOU HAVE PLENTY OF LIGHT

Contrary to popular belief, it is not harmful to read in bed, if you do it right. With proper posture...the head and shoulders comfortably propped up...and adequate light, it can be one of our most harmless pleasures. Owner Charged With Manslaughter After Lion Kills Man

CITY GRIPPED BY FEAR WHEN ANIMAL FLEES

WILDWOOD, N. J. (P)—A manslaughter charge was lodged today against a boardwalk sideshow operator whose circus lion broke out of a cage, tore a man to death and for nearly three hours terrorized this resort city until slain by a policeman's bullet.

Recorder Leonard Bryne held Joseph Dobish, 50, without bail in connection with the death last night of Thomas Saito, 37, of Philadelphia, a Japanese auction room employee whose mangled body was found in a maze of pilings under the oceanfront boardwalk, nearly deserted in this off-season month.
Sometime last night in a manner as yet undetermined, "Tuffy" escaped from the cage and roamed the nearby boardwalk.
Saito was about to enter his parked automobile when the lion pounced from the elevated boardwalk upon the man's back and dragged him into the darkened recesses under the walk. There Saito's body was found, clad only in a ripped shirt.
Police, informed by Dobish of the lion's escape, hurriedly formed a posse of officers, firemen and volunteers. An armed cordon was thrown around a four-block area along the Atlantic ocean.
Only a few blocks away in the heart of the city terrified citizens barricaded homes and stores while an alarm spread the tale of a man-killing lion on the loose and warned all to keep off the streets.

"Tuffy" had been ambling along the boardwalk by Virginia Murray, who resides across the street from the boardwalk. She told how the lion sought in vain to get back into his cage (closed by the owner in order to prevent the second animal from escaping also) and then went off again.
As hours passed horror in the city increased and even distant streets became desolate. Police searchlights pierced the frightening darkness as the posse combed the labyrinth of piling.

Then Patrolman John Gares, crossing the boardwalk, spied the lion bounding toward him. He waited, pistol ready. When the animal came within 10 feet he fired. "Tuffy" fell dead at his feet with a bullet through his right eye.

JURY SPLITS IN AUTO CASE

George N. Firkins, 25-year-old Los Angeles service station operator, won a technical victory last night when a justice court jury failed to agree on a verdict, but he will be tried again on drunk driving charges.

The jury was discharged by Justice Kenneth Morrison at 9 p. m. yesterday. It had deliberated since 4:25 p. m., and was reported deadlocked 7 to 5 on whether or not Firkins should be found guilty.

The defendant was arrested by highway patrolmen Aug. 7 near Orange, and was tried here after he charged that Justice Cal Lester of Orange was biased and prejudiced on drunk driving cases and would inflict a severe penalty. Date for the second trial was not set definitely.

GROOVER BACK ON JOB TODAY

Highway Patrolman Lloyd Groover, seriously injured in a motorcycle crash just a year ago, was back on the job today. It was on Oct. 2, 1937 that Groover began chasing a speeder on the coast highway near Doheny park. Suddenly a driver just in front of him turned left, and he was unable to miss the auto.

The officer sustained multiple compound fractures of bones in his lower right leg and back injuries, and was unconscious for two weeks.
Groover now is working in the patrol office at nights, and later will go back to patrolling the highways—in an automobile.

BRITISH SEEK SLIGHT RECORD

DUNDEE, Scotland. (P)—The Mercury, British pick-a-back seaplane which crossed the Atlantic on an experimental flight two months ago, took off today from the Maia, its flying partner, in an attempt to set a new world long-distance record.

The Mercury headed for Cape Town, South Africa, seeking to break the nonstop record of 6296 miles made July 13-15, 1937, by Mikhail Gromoff and two other Soviet Russian aviators, between Moscow and California by way of the North Pole.

The distance between Dundee and Capetown is 6370 miles. The Mercury made her start from Dundee instead of Southampton, her home base, in order to get added distance. She carried fuel enough to give her an estimated range of 6700 miles.

Tux and Gown Chatter

Suede continues to be first in dress accessories this year and the shades offered this fall are, if anything, lovelier than ever before. This soft lustrous leather certainly does go places this season and smart little hats, swanky hand bags, and belts are being bought by thousands of smartly dressed women to accent their new fall frocks.

Colors in rich, soft, flattering shades highlight the fall parade of accessories. Boy blue is a grayed blue with just enough green to make you look twice at it, and a glorious new brown, a bronzy purple tone not related to any brown you have ever seen, is one you will find most flattering. Of course there is a dark, richly soft, yellowish green in there, there are three shades of regal purple used in combination... all are lovely... in suede or antelope... especially when all accessories match so perfectly.

Until next week... BARBARA.

I Just Found Out About Orange County

By BOB SWANSON

Rolling Homes

When A. G. Sherman, scientist and inventor, went on a fishing trip near Detroit about 12 years ago, he had a difficult time erecting his camp tent. Back in Detroit, the disgruntled vacationer sat down to his drawing board and made a sketch which changed vacationing habits the country over.

Sherman had sketched the first house-trailer, forerunner of the modern prairie schooners which dot the nation's highways today.

Each year hundreds of Orange county residents take to the road, bound on trailer trips to the mountains, or on tours throughout the states. North, south, east and west, these motor nomads cover every highway and byway of the country.

Use of house-trailers in Orange county isn't restricted entirely to vacationers, however, local dealers point out. Some buy trailers to live in permanently, others for short periodical trips, while some buy the prairie schooners for extended tours which take them adventuring throughout the nation.

Men working on construction jobs, dealers say, are fond of trailers because they can move their homes whenever their job moves. Employees for local chain stores have been known to live in trailers, ready for transfer to another city.

Besides construction men and their families, transient orange pickers buy many second hand trailers so they can take their home to the job. Another use for the trailer is reported to be developing—as a traveling sample room for salesmen.

Manager Ray Peterson of the Covered Wagon auto trailer firm here estimates that there are probably some 500 house-trailers of every type in Orange county. He says that during summer months, probably some 2000 people in the county are living in trailers.

During vacation time, hundreds of trailers from all parts of the nation gather at the beaches, adding to the number of modern nomads.

Their trailers range from small home-made affairs to veritable mansions on wheels. A few trailers have been known to cost as high as $50,000, Peterson says. Ordinary price range is all the way from about $200 upward to about $5000.

The first Covered Wagon was only nine feet long, according to Peterson. It had a flat top, a wide door in the rear, and a "drop type floor" that was taken out when parked so one could lower it to the ground and use the stove and work table in preparing and cooking the meals.

Manufacture of auto trailers really swung under way seriously about six or eight years ago. Since then, dealers claim, the number has increased every year.

Chief types handled locally are the Pullman trailer, the barrel type trailer, and the small camping trailer.

The Pullman type is largest, most expensive. It has the most room and more conveniences. Being heavier and harder to pull in the hills, this type is more popular in the level areas of the East, dealers find.

The "barrel" model is rightly named. It's lighter than the Pullman, and is rounded at both front and back, giving a more streamlined appearance. Because it's easier to pull up hills, it seems to be the most popular in California. The barrel shape gives slightly less room.

Smallest of the trailers is the camping outfit. Weighing less than 700 pounds, it has sleeping quarters for two, a stove, place to store grub, a few other cubbyholes.

Trailers weigh from less than 700 pounds to about 4500 pounds. Weight of the trailer makes but an imperceptible difference in pulling on a straight, level highway. Manager Peterson says the biggest trailer is but a two-pound pull on an automobile on a level road.

On mountains, though, the heavier trailer makes some difference. That's why for regular mountain trips, the barrel type is best, say dealers. Mountain roads are no worry because most trailers have electric brakes, controlled from the car.

Trailers are constructed of the lightest materials. Most are made of ply wood and a material called masonite—a composition wood which is extremely light.

When manufacturing of trailers first began on a big scale, the Covered Wagon company made unfurnished trailers, giving the purchaser the opportunity of fitting out his own rolling home. But people tended to pile all their kitchen ware in the back, or vice versa, and many customers became dissatisfied because the trailers were out of balance.

Weight is cautiously distributed in even portions. The heaviest objects, such as the stove and ice box are placed above the wheels on either side in the center. There'll probably be a divan in the back, counterbalanced by cushion

Progress Stressed As Buena Park Opens Three-Day Program

SUSPECT HELD IN ANAHEIM HIT-RUN DEATH

Anaheim police were reported today to have taken into custody a suspect who may have been the driver of the hit-run automobile which struck and killed 72-year-old Charles N. Phillips at Anaheim early Tuesday.

An automobile with a blood-spattered front was reported found by police in Anaheim early today. The driver was taken into custody, pending a chemist's analysis of the blood specks this afternoon.

Name of the driver was not revealed. Meanwhile, a coroner's jury meeting at the Backs, Terry, and Campbell Funeral chapel in Anaheim this morning declared Philip's death was caused by a driver who failed to stop to render aid. No blame was fixed, Coroner Earl Abbey said.

C. M. CHAMBER STUDIES PLAN

COSTA MESA.—At a special called meeting of the chamber of commerce, provisional plans for organization of the Costa Mesa Improvement association were laid before the board of directors by George A. Ragan.

Advantage of such an organization over the present set-up, declared Ragan, would lie in its greater power to interest and enlist the cooperation of outlying property owners and small farm operators, where as the chamber of commerce has long been composed almost exclusively of merchants.

After thorough discussion of the plan, it was voted for the chamber to appoint a committee of three persons from each of the seven voting precincts. These committees, in turn, are to make a house-to-house canvass of their respective districts, lay the proposition before the people and report on the general reaction at public mass meeting, to be held either late this month or early in November.

People have gotten over their curiosity about trailers somewhat, the moving homes become more familiar. In one day about three years ago, three thousand people visited a local dealer to take a look at the trailers.

TOWNSEND NEWS, VIEWS

By WALTER R. ROBB

(This column deals with Townsend news and views. Any opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

The latch-string is on the outside to the public and members of other Townsend clubs at Santa Ana club No. 9's meeting tonight. C. A. Holloway will call the meeting to order at 7:30 p. m. and will present Earl Lentz and C. B. Hurd and the other members of their orchestra which is scheduled to give one of its fine concerts. A short business session will follow and then Walter R. Robb, county organizer will speak. It is hoped that many will attend this meeting from other clubs and help this club have a real crowd.

This column is in receipt of the following communication from Mary A. Ritter, secretary pro tem of the Buena Park club No. 1: "The club will have only a business meeting at 7:30 tonight, but we will have a potluck dinner at 6:30 and a short business session followed by free motion pictures at 8 o'clock p. m. All will be welcome!" These meetings will be held in the Woman's clubhouse at Eleventh and Grand streets and Albert Park.

Mayor Johnson was emphatic in saying that it was un-American to expect the wage earners of the country to be willing to live on the $47.52 per month as WPA provides for unskilled labor in San Bernardino county. He told of an attempt made by himself and others to get the scale of pay for such labor increased to $55.00 as is paid in Los Angeles county but without success as yet. In this connection he told of a man in San Bernardino with a family of six to support, trying to get along on the monthly wage from WPA of $47.52 and how he was finding it impossible to do so and keep his children in school.

Here he applied the logic of the Townsend plan and told of Dr. Townsend's realization of these ills of the nation and of his recognition of legislation of a national character being needed to correct them. In this relation came the need of electing men to congress so the speaker said, who would stand by the doctor in his attempt to put over the need corrective legislation.

He concluded with an appeal to the voters to stand by him in his fight for election, saying that if they did so he would stand by them after election. He made it plain that he is an advocate of constitutional government of the American type with broad powers of representation vested with the people and warned against allowing executive encroachment upon such powers.

Mayor Willis Warner of Huntington Beach was in the audience and was presented as a supervisory candidate. In a few well chosen words he voiced his appreciation of the privilege of being present and told of his belief in the Townsend plan.

Systems of Punishment in Early Days of State Told to County Peace Officers Ass'n

SAN CLEMENTE.—Half a hundred members of the Orange County Peace Officers association met at the Jewett Hotel in San Clemente last evening to indulge in exchange of law enforcement ideas and the more personal business of the organization. Interest is increasing as the officers interchange correlating problems.

The address was by Leo Fris, former deputy district attorney, who related incidents as to how the early Californians handled the criminal situation during the gold rush days, and those immediately following.

Law was somewhat crude but effective, and the speaker disclosed incidents of hangings for various crimes. The theft of a diamond earring or more called for the permanent removal of the criminal. If it was under $100 the penalty was a head and eyebrow shave. That put the brand of dishonesty on the thief.

The entertainment was from screenland's stars, Harold Boyce, San Clemente police officer, presenting Joyce Home, the blonde in the "Dead End Kids," and also Johnny Boyce, dance director for the Stan Laurel Productions. An added attraction was Rosalie Boyce, youthful tap dancer and singer.

Chief of Police Wendell B. Lovell of San Clemente introduced Mayor Mulherron, who welcomed the peace officers, Commissioner Roy Strang and others of the municipal family.

The business of the sessions was conducted by President Hunter Leach.

Two Parties Honor Guest From East

Charming courtesies to Mrs. Carl Claire of St. Joseph, Mo., a guest in the home of her sister, Mrs. John Geiger, continue to fill this week, with most recent being affairs yesterday and Tuesday.

Yesterday's little party was a gesture on the part of Mrs. J. E. Braden, vacationing at the beach, who entertained there, and consequently used a charming marine motif for her table. Starfish, colored shells, and seaweed were effective in the center of the table, and the hostess had arranged a seafood menu that delighted the visitor from the interior.

A beach stroll preceded luncheon, and a swim followed. Guests of Mrs. Braden, who entertained in the home of her sister, Mrs. John Geiger, were Mrs. Claire, Mrs. Geiger, Mrs. Lewis Williams, and Mrs. Albert Raymond.

On Tuesday Mrs. Kenneth Loughton extended a charming courtesy to the visitor, entertaining with Mrs. John Wilson and Mrs. John Fraley as assistant hostesses at a tea party.

The trio arranged a striking autumnal table, with brilliant zinnias centering the lace cloth, flame-toned tapers, amber glassware, and other appointments in the same tawny yellows and rusts.

Invited to share their hospitality were Mrs. Claire, Mrs. Geiger, Mrs. Charles Fendren, Mrs. T. R. Faulkner, Mrs. Willard Bassett, Mrs. W. C. Patrick, Mrs. L. L. Pratt, Mrs. V. O. Kiser, Mrs. J. D. Altizer, Mrs. D. M. Ummler, Mrs. C. O. Morrison, Mrs. Lucien Dalton, Mrs. L. D. Spencer, and Mrs. William B. Humphreys.

STANFORDITES MEET WITH MRS. N. E. WEST

Always anticipated as the pleasant start of year's activities for the Stanford Women's club of Orange county is the first fall meeting held each year at the home of Mrs. N. E. West in Laguna Beach.

This year her hospitality featured a delicious dinner served in buffet style, after which she escorted her guests to the studio of William Wendt, the painter, and Julia Bracken Wendt, the sculptress. The latter artist conducted the group about and gave an interesting talk on their two arts.

Returning to the West home, a brief business meeting was conducted by Miss Thelma Patton, president, who invited the group to meet at her home Nov. 7.

Present for the initial session were Miss Mary Schott, Miss Doris Burke, Mrs. J. K. McDonald, Miss Thelma Patton, Mrs. Ross Shafer, Mrs. Edna Condon, Miss Margaret Swingle, Miss Lella Watson, Miss Maud Robertson, and Miss Barbara Rurup.

STONES ARE HOME FROM NORTHERN TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stone have returned to their home at 2515 North Park boulevard this week after a three weeks' northern vacation.

They were joined at Berkeley by Mrs. Stone's mother and sister, Mrs. J. W. Booth and Miss Irene Booth, and the four drove via the Redwoods on to Port Angeles, Victoria, the Puget Sound country, and on back to Crater Lake.

En route home they visited a cousin, Mrs. Edward Farr, in Sacramento.

RIDE IN PARADE AT BAKERSFIELD

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. George Boyd, and Mrs. E. Dietrich drove to Bakersfield Friday and registered there at El Cajon hotel. The men took their horses and rode in the Pioneer day parade. The group returned to Santa Ana Monday.

Also taking part in the Bakersfield affair from Santa Ana were Mr. and Mrs. Otto McClure.

METHODIST WOMEN HAVE ALL-DAY MEET

Associated Women of the First Methodist church held an all-day meeting at the church yesterday when the various groups convened in the morning.

Mrs. Henry Guthrie, leader of the Women's Home Missionary section, introduced Mrs. Eva Wheeler, state W. C. T. U. president, who gave an address. When the Associated Women were called to order it was with Mrs. Clarence Bond presiding at a short business meeting. Mrs. C. E. Holman began the first in a series of lectures on "World Service in the Methodist Church."

Devotionals were led by Mrs. S. E. Lane, following which luncheon was served with the Women's Foreign Missionary society meeting directly after. Mrs. Doc Tway gave a report of the county officers' meeting held last Friday in Newport Beach, at which time five members of the Santa Ana group were on the program. Mrs. Linwood then presented prizes to the two winners in the reading contest which has been conducted for the past year, with Mrs. Beatrice Hossler and Mrs. John Clarkson winning first and second prizes respectively.

The remaining afternoon hours were given over to a general meeting and program, at which time the Gothic door of the social hall was opened upon an oriental tableau depicting the Di Wall festival of lights which occurs in India each year. Miss Mary Lamb, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Duane Smith who impersonated Mrs. Gertrude L. Warner, prominent missionary, recounting many of her interesting experiences. Mrs. George Angne, as historian, outlined the history and religious development of India from the beginning of known history of that nation to the present, which completed the meeting.

YUMA RITES OF WIDESPREAD INTEREST

Of great interest to the scores of friends that have been theirs for many years was announcement this week of the marriage of Mrs. S. Edith Vance of Hemet and Leonard F. Harvey, superintendent of the Santa Ana post-office. The quiet ceremony was performed Aug. 12 at Yuma, Ariz.

The bride, formerly Miss Edith Wilkins, moved her schooling in this city and upon graduation from the local high school was employed for some time as bookkeeper at the Santa Ana laundry. She is at present associated with the Hemet Water company, and because of her duties there has not determined when she and Mr. Harvey will establish a home together here.

The latter has been a prominent resident of the community for many years. He became affiliated with the postoffice here in 1902, and in 1927 was appointed superintendent.

For several years his home at 806 Lacy streets has been shared by his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Harvey, who now plan to move into a new home at 2313 Spurgeon street next week. Another son, Lester Harvey, is in school at Hemet, and his only daughter, Mrs. Franklin Grouard, makes her home in Santa Ana with her husband.

WIVES OF DENTISTS OPEN WINTER SEASON

Senator Harry Westover was guest speaker at a dinner meeting last night of the auxiliary to the Orange County Dental society, convening for the first time since summer recess.

The affair was held at Knott's Berry farm, and Mrs. John L. Wehrly of Santa Ana, president, was in charge, introducing Senator Westover, whose topic was "Legislation on Dentistry."

Mrs. J. E. Paul invited the membership to be her guests Nov. 2 at an afternoon session at which time Dr. Milo Tedstrom will discuss the correlation of internal medicine with preventative dentistry.

Present last night were Senator and Mrs. Westover, Mrs. Wehrly, Mrs. M. Patton, Mrs. J. E. Paul, Mrs. Cassius Paul, Mrs. Harvey Spears, Mrs. G. Stanley Norton, all of Santa Ana; Mrs. D. H. Hough of Huntington Beach; Mrs. E. G. Ridge and Mrs. W. G. Frank of Fullerton, and Mrs. Niels Boege, Mrs. C. V. Schutz, Mrs. W. C. McCarthy, Mrs. C. P. Tompkins, and Mrs. G. H. Boege of Anaheim.

FRATERNITY DANCE INTEREST GROWS

Added interest was given members of the younger set today with announcement that Lee Parker and his orchestra will play for the Inter-Fraternity-Sorority informal dance this coming Saturday night at San Clemente Casino.

Excellent ticket sales have already been reported by the six fraternities and sororities represented on the council, the Sigma Tau Psi, Kappa Delta Phi, Delta Chi Sigmas, Alpha Sigma Lambdas, Phi Sigmas and Delta Sigmas.

MARY STODDARD

ENGAGED TO ONE MAN AND LOVES ANOTHER IS PROBLEM

Honesty is the best policy and it applies just as much to love as it does to business.

A girl is perplexed because she is not honest with herself. Therefore she is not honest with the young man "whose" litare she has worn for the past three years. She's met another man, and she's sure she loves, but she enjoys being a martyr. She wonders if she should go on with the martyr role and marry the man she doesn't love just so she won't disillusion him? She seems to be so fascinated with this perplexity that she doesn't even stop to consider the fact that perhaps her fiancé wouldn't care to be married to a martyr. Her letter follows:

Dear Miss Stoddard: I've been engaged three years to a boy who offers security and a home. But I did not love him.

I accepted his ring when I was just 17, and it seemed smart to be wearing a diamond presented by "a football hero." Last year while away I met and became interested in a young man with whom I share many interests. I told him I was engaged, so there was nothing unheralded about it at all, but one evening he said he loved me and that he knew I loved him as he could see it in my eyes.

Now he wants to send for me so we can be married, and I want to go!

But how can I break my engagement without hurting the boy who has been so good to me for these past three years? He's been really wonderful, except when he's been so unreasonably jealous. He knows nothing of my feelings for the other fellow as I made up my mind to forget him when I came home. But one can't rule one's heart with decisions of the mind.

That's why I'm asking your advice, Miss Stoddard. You've helped so many other perplexed and muddled persons with your unprejudiced viewpoint that I'm sure you can help me.

Despite my resolutions to forget the other day I've found it's impossible, and now that he has written that he has a good paying job, but one that would keep up moving most of the time for awhile at least, I find myself wondering what to do? What to do? Tell me, please, the end of my rope and in need of a more experienced person's advice.

So, in your opinion, and perhaps some of your readers, which is closer to being the right thing—to take my happiness, knowing I have disillusioned a young man, or take chance at taking my fiancé happy at the price of the man I love and my own dreams of happiness?

Your greatest perplexity comes from a guilty conscience, doesn't it? With the promise on your lips to wed one man, you permitted another to become interested in you to the extent that he has asked you to marry him. In view of this, a disinterested person would honestly wonder if your fiancé's jealousy is really "unreasonable."

Perhaps you are not giving your football hero the credit that is due him. Perhaps that courage and judgment that made him a star in athletics also dominates his private life.

Did it ever occur to you to be truly fair with him and tell him exactly how you feel? Instead of being "hurt" he most probably would admire your frankness and honesty and be as good a loser in the game of hearts as he was in the game of football.

Don't be too sure, either, that he will be disillusioned. He would not want to be tied to a girl who doesn't love him.

On the other hand, are you sure it is love or infatuation you feel for the second young man? You know the characteristics of your fiancé pretty well after three years' association. What do you know of the man who has "swept you off your feet?"

No third party can make such a decision. There's just one thing to do if you feel fair to all concerned and is to tell your fiancé exactly what you have told me. You might be actually surprised at how he would take it when you surrender his diamond ring.

Present were the Mesdames L. G. Holman, W. E. Dennis, Herbert McVay, Edna Wells, G. F. Hulce, A. E. Ekland, E. A. Elwell, R. W. Cole, J. D. Watkins, F. A. Martin, L. H. Harbert, Osburn, Hays and Earl Lepper.

Enjoyable on the program were two solos sung by Mrs. Charles Marshall, who accompanied herself. She and another granddaughter of the hostess, Mrs. Floyd Paxton, assisted in serving a late refreshment course.

Present for the day were the Mesdames Jessie Leiby, Charles Hadlett, Mollie Smith, E. E. Smith, Cora Lee, W. F. O'Hara, J. D. Campbell, Effie Slusser, M. C. Pollard, F. G. Will Help You With Your Clothes Problem. Write Her!

If fashion had set out to design just the clothes for fall's big football games, she couldn't have done a more perfect job. Tweeds and color!

I loved the women in plaids! And there were lots of them about to be seen too—plaid fitted jackets, plaid top coats at times, and some distinctive costumes with a touch of plaid just trimming them. Then there are the suits in colored wools. To my way of thinking they just push everything else into the background, these colored wool jackets with contrasting or matching skirts, and the sweaters to go with them.

Yes, by all means, sweaters! There is something very limp and "out-of-it" about blouses here. For instance, I sat next to such a lovely rust tweed suit with a new little velvet collar too—but the blouse was satin and it spoiled the whole thing.

But the woman who just fascinated me with downright Vogue chic was wearing English tweed. Her jacket was the loveliest new purple color mixed with grey and a line of wine in its bold plaid, and a monotone plum—purple tweed skirt. She wore a held white blouse and white pigskin gloves. And on her feet were chunky shoes with a floppy tongue in a funny dark plum shade which blended smartly. On her head was a felt—a new, peaked crown and saucy brim which rolled high on the sides and a very high grey feather tipped with wine.

Saw another woman who was quite the opposite. I know the reason she was dressed as she was, too. Somebody had invited her to cocktails and a buffet supper after the game, and she, poor dear, thought she should dress up. So she had on a fur coat, which would have been all right, since it was just squirrel locke; but under it she wore a wine velvet dress, and a dressy high turban too and high heeled shoes.

N. Y. Tests Prove Women Can Lose FAT

Ask Your Doctor If It Isn't Good Way. Read EVERY Word

NEW YORK, N. Y.: A test conducted by a prominent N. Y. physician and a nationally known newspaper woman proved there is a harmless, effective way to lose fat if you'll stick TO IT and give it a fair trial.

In 40 days, 25 women lost a total of 240 lbs. EVERY one lost fat—the average loss per woman being 11½ lbs. The women first of all ate sensibly, and for proper functioning they took a little daily dose of Kruschen Salts. If you have the slightest doubt about this plan just ask your own doctor about its safety and merit.

And this is important to know: Kruschen Salts just Kruschen in hot water every morning for better functioning. Go light on fatty foods and sweets—plenty of lean meats, fresh fruits and green vegetables. Plan to do this faithfully for 28 days and see your fat lose fat and feel healthier and younger. A jar costs but a few cents and makes 5 gallons of the most highly efficient mineral health water. At McCoy Drug, and druggists everywhere.

Put the Sweet in "Home Sweet Home"

Easy to Build New Homes Today, Asserts Merchant

A good many people who have delayed in building homes because they believe that building a home is a complicated process, are not aware of the fact that they can now receive a "one-stop" building service, from plans to financing, said Wilbur Barr of the Barr Lumber Co. today.

Now, beginning even with advice on selection of the home site, down through plans, building materials and equipment, contracts, permits to arrangement of the financing, the prospective home owner can, in one office, secure complete and competent guidance in all of the details of home building, with only one organization to look to as the responsible factor.

This new convenience to the home builder, said Mr. Barr, makes the additional benefits of today's low building costs easier to obtain. Building materials today are lower in price and higher in quality than in the so-called normal building year of 1926. Improvements in design and construction methods have made for more home comforts and conveniences at lower cost. Financing the home purchase is much simpler today, and far less costly than in the 20's. In most cases a new home can be purchased for monthly payments less than rent.

A note of warning to prospective builders, build now was added by Mr. Barr. Pointing out that most homes are built at the peak of a building boom when land, labor and building materials are high in cost, Mr. Barr asserted that the man who builds in 1938 will get his home before boom conditions force costs upward, and he will definitely protect himself against a certain increase in building costs that he would have to pay if he waited until 1940 to build.

Life magazine, September 26th issue, devotes 22 pages to beautiful house plans, building data, home financing facts, etc. Don't miss this splendid building book. If you don't succeed in obtaining one, we will provide as long as ours last.

Three Types of Repair Loans Offered by FHA; $10,000 is Limit for Modernization

Three types of loans are provided for under the Property Improvement Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration. They are: Class 1.—Loans not exceeding $10,000 (from private financial institutions such as banks, savings and loans associations, finance companies, etc.) to repair, alter, or improve existing structures or the real property in connection therewith. Remodeling, building additions, painting and decorating, installing a new roof and landscaping are examples. Although the purchase and installation of equipment and machinery are not eligible for a Property Improvement loan, heating, plumbing, wiring built-in air-conditioning and ventilating systems, and a few other items are considered a part of the structure and are therefore eligible improvements.

Class 2.—Loans not exceeding $2500 for erecting new structures other than residential. Examples are: Garages, wayside stands, etc.

Class 3.—Loans not exceeding $2500 to erect new structures used wholly or in part for residential purposes.

Long Live the Redwoods

WASHINGTON, (AP)—California's famous redwood trees grow to be 2000 years old. They reach a maximum height of 364 feet and the trunks grow to a 20-foot diameter. The national park service says they once grew in many parts of the world, but are now found only in California.

BUDGET BUILDING

The most practical thing for you to consider today? . . . Housing on a budget basis.

This is true whether you are a homeowner or not. If you are a dweller in your own home you have the joy and anticipation of improvement, the need for repair or additional accommodations. If you are a renter you have before you the tremendous advantages of home ownership.

In either instance, through Title I or Title II of the Federal Housing Administration, you have the opportunity to finance these needs on a budget basis at an appealing cost for financing.

The fall months eagerly await your decision to improve.

Our services and cooperation are available to you in preliminary planning and financing details. Call 1973 for an appointment. We will gladly discuss your building problems at your home.

DINNER OFFICIALLY LAUNCHES COMMUNITY CHEST CAMPAIGN

2000 Expected to Join New Citrus Group;
Incorporation Papers Drawn at Meet Here5 SANTA ANANS
NEW STUDENTS
AT OCCIDENTAL

Five Santa Ana young people have been registered at Occidental college as new students, the college reported today. They include:

Mary Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Henderson of 2441 Riverside drive, who attended high school and junior college here. In high school she was secretary of the Girls' League and the senior class, and in junior college she was vice president of the A. W. S. and president of the German club. She is majoring in biology and plans to attend Northwestern medical school.

Ruth Budd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Budd of 1151 Durant street, who attended high school and junior college here. She is majoring in history and education and plans to become a teacher.

Carolyn Davis, daughter of James L. Davis of 185 South Birch street. She attended junior college here, is majoring in social science and plans to go into business administrative work.

Virginia Pritchard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Pritchard of 2118 Greenleaf street, who attended high school and junior college here and is majoring in history and education to teach after graduation.

Karl Christ of 1003 Grand avenue, who attended high school here. He is studying philosophy and religion.

Officers Elected
By Chiropractors

New officers of the Orange County Chiropractic association had taken office today following the annual election.

Dr. S. L. Aubin of Santa Ana was elected president of the organization for the coming year. Dr. R. H. Smith was elected vice president. Dr. J. W. Hancock was named secretary-treasurer.

The meeting, held at the office of Dr. Smith, was presided over by President Dr. L. Beemans of Beemans' Sanitarium. Program was featured by a talk by Dr. G. G. Kerby of the Los Angeles college. Dr. and Mrs. Smith served lunch at the close of the meeting.

Brothers, Parted 50 Years, Meet;
Each Thought Other Was Dead

Two brothers who parted 50 years ago at a railroad station in Oskaloosa, Kan., had been re-united in Santa Ana today after a half century of loneliness during which each thought the other was dead.

They were brought together here through a bizarre chain of events. Although they had often crossed paths and been in the same cities, each was unaware of the other's existence.

Their names are Fred and Ed Price. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Price have been living in Santa Ana for 27 years. Ed Price had been living for 30 years at San Luis Obispo where he settled after traveling for 18 years through almost every country of the world.

It was on Oct. 8, 1888 that Mr. and Mrs. Fred Price left Oskaloosa on their honeymoon and on the same day Ed Price left on a career of adventuring throughout the world.

This coming Saturday, Oct. 8, the local couple will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary—and Ed Price will be there.

Ed found his brother in Santa Ana two weeks ago. He had just taken the ashes of his late wife back to Oskaloosa, Kan. There he learned to his astonishment that his brother, Fred, was still alive and was living in Santa Ana.

For 50 years each had thought himself the only remaining member of the family.

Day before yesterday Ed Price became 74 years of age. So Saturday's golden anniversary celebration for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Price will also be a birthday celebration for Ed.

Ed Price will meet some 60 other relatives for the first time at the celebration.

MANY SECTIONS
ASK DATA ON FACT-FINDERS

Plans were set in motion today for the incorporation of a proposed new citrus growers "fact-finding" organization which is expected to extend its scope of operations throughout California.

Articles of incorporation will be completed and submitted to the secretary of state for approval within a week or 10 days. As soon as the approval of the secretary of state is received, by-laws will be drafted and submitted to a general meeting of citrus growers.

2000 TO JOIN

Officials predicted today that membership of the proposed new organization will be close to 2000 citrus growers.

Purposes of the organization and the general wording of the articles of incorporation were outlined at a meeting of a special committee in the offices of Colonel M. B. Wellington here last night.

A name for the new organization was selected, but was not revealed.

PURPOSES STATED

General purposes as outlined by the committee would be: To provide means of direct contact with citrus growers; give emphasis to support to all marketing organizations; study problems in the growing, shipping, packing distribution and marketing of fruit; disseminate information among its members.

Interest in the new organization seems to be widespread, according to Colonel Wellington, chairman of last night's meeting. Telephone calls have been received by sponsors of the new organization from Ventura, Redlands, Ontario, and other adjoining districts asking for information.

OTHER AREAS TO JOIN

Because of the seeming widespread interest, it is expected that other districts of California will soon be seeking to join the organization.

Members of the special committee meeting here last night included Colonel Wellington, Santa Ana; S. Blue, Anaheim; Richard Haster, Garden Grove; Guy Steele, La Habra; Clarence Brown, San Juan Capistrano; George Randall, Orange; Stanley Huntington, Villa Park; and Fred Gerdes, Orange.

Date for the next general meeting of growers will be announced after the articles of incorporation are approved by the secretary of state, it was announced.

They'll Lead the Cheering

Santa Ana high school rooters have quite a bit of encouragement when they support their football team. And why not, for they have three comely misses to lead them on. Pictured above are Doris Jacobs, Saye Mason, and Katherine Hambricht, song leaders. Miss Mason is head song leader with Miss Jacobs, sophomore representative, and Miss Hambricht, junior.

CLUB HEARS
DON WILKIE

Don Wilkie of Laguna Beach, radio commentator on matters of crime, regaled the Breakfast club this morning with stories dramatic, tragic and humorous as sketches of his experience in actual detective work and radio correspondence.

Mr. Wilkie read a few letters of actual problems his radio audience had submitted for his solution, some beyond his ability to meet, others in which he had been helpful.

The musical part of the program was by Miss Henrietta Baker, accompanied by Ray Raymon. Program chairman was Spurgeon Sparks.

The official club publication, "The Breakfast," with "Chuck" Barrett, editor, was distributed for membership edification.

Birds and Beasts
In Hollywood Zoo
In Trouble Again

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The animals and birds in Zoo park are in trouble again.

Notice was served on the California Zoological society yesterday that the 250 animals and 350 birds would have to vacate the premises by next Monday unless a rental bill of $4125 is paid. However, the zoo has 60 days of grace.

When the cages were flooded last March and their occupants were facing starvation because attendance fell off, Hollywoodites and others saved the day by donations to buy food.

ANAHEIM BOY IN JAIL

Robert Carroll, 21-year-old laborer, was beginning a six-month county jail sentence for petty theft today. He was booked yesterday afternoon by Anaheim police.

DR. W. V. HENLEY
ADDRESSES 200
WORKERS FOR BIG S. A. FUND

"Our ability to cooperate is the measure of our civilization." That challenge was laid before 200 Community Chest workers last night by Dr. W. Valentine Henley of U. S. C., as the 1938-39 chest campaign officially got under way.

Volunteer workers gathered for dinner in campaign headquarters 215 East Fourth street, to hear the opening gun in the annual drive sounded by Dr. Henley and by local chest leaders, out to equal last year's achievement of surpassing the financial goal set for the campaign.

Dr. Henley, director of coordination at the University of Southern California, praised the chest movement as a "preventive program," and said it was doubly important because of the community spirit it revives each year.

"The Community Chest," he said, "is a representation of the spirit of the community. . . . The government has stepped far into the charity field today because individuals either were unable or refused to help their neighbors. The chest now is chiefly concerned with a preventive program—to prevent people from going over the edge instead of trying to patch them up after they've gone over."

"The chest makes it possible for you to get more out of your charity dollar than any other way you can spend it. . . . It's a chance to let your money go out and do the things you'd like to do for others yourself. . . . It lets us forget our own difficulties in helping others to forget theirs. . . ."

"We live by radiation, not by absorption—you are not what you get out of the community but what you give to it."

Chairman Orlyn Robertson presided over the meeting. Brief remarks were made by E. H. Layton, who arranged the dinner; Mrs. E. T. McFadden, W. B. Williams and D. G. Tidball, chairman of last year's record-breaking campaign. Dr. Henley was introduced by Bob Fernandez, chest president.

Police News

You can't sell neckties on the street without a business license. That's what W. B. Lambert of Los Angeles was told by Santa Ana police yesterday. Having no license, he promised officers he would leave town.

Don't dump grass in the street! Police made that request today, following a report from City Engineer J. L. McBride that several Santa Ana residents are dumping grass in the street, making it difficult for the street sweeper to operate. There's a city ordinance which says grass must be placed in boxes, police declared.

ORDER LIMITS
WALNUT SALE

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Secretary Wallace approved today an order fixing the saleable percentage of walnuts under the Pacific Coast Walnut marketing agreement at 80 per cent of the 1938-39 crop.

The remaining 20 per cent will be held by the walnut control board as a surplus for sale in foreign commerce or to the domestic trade for shelling only.

The order was approved by four walnut grower associations, representing 8825 growers producing more than 80 per cent of the crop, the AAA announced.

The agreement has been in effect in California, Washington and Oregon since October, 1933.

$2176 REPAID WELFARE UNIT

FRESNO. (AP)—Deputy District Attorney Henry A. Hunter and Mrs. Ella B. Frederick, supervisor of the old age security department of the Fresno county welfare department, today announced the recovery of $2,176.78 from Melvin H. and Emma P. Stears of Indian Wells, who have received old age security since Dec. 1, 1935.

Mrs. Frederick said the amount recovered represents the full amount the county advanced the Selma couple in old age security and county groceries while they were awaiting certifications for aged relief.

She said an investigation by the department did not reveal all money and property owned by the couple but their bank deposit book shows deposits of $8413 since aid was first advanced.

LOUISIANA PURCHASE . . .
Greatest act of Thomas Jefferson, first President of the United States to be inaugurated in Washington City, was the purchase of the extensive Louisiana Territory from France for the sum of $15,000,000.
Two foremost objectives were in mind when this huge land deal was contemplated to give the United States control of the Mississippi river and the port of New Orleans, and to keep this country unhampered by European countries in the development of a republican form of government.

The purchase, made in the year 1803, was sanctioned by Napoleon not so much out of friendliness toward the United States than because he feared he could not hold the port of New Orleans against British attack.

Strange as it seems, the Louisiana Purchase did not include all of the present state of Louisiana, omitting about one-half of it.

The Tragedy of Akron

The depression, like a great wind, distributes its cruelties unevenly. Some places have been hit harder than others. One place that seems to have been hit hardest is Akron, Ohio.

The employers say this was all the fault of labor. The unions say it was the stupidity of the employers. But there cannot be any doubt about what has happened to this town.

Ten years ago Akron had a population of 225,000 and nine out of 10 residents were born in America. So the suspected foreigner cannot be blamed for what has happened. Half of all its homes were owned by the occupants and everybody was working at what seemed good wages. The town's prosperity was built on rubber. Goodyear, Goodrich, Firestone were the chief employers.

Today there are 70,000 people—one-third of the entire population—dependent on some form of relief. Retail sales were not any too good last year, but this year they are 20 per cent less than last year. Building has come almost to a standstill.

The town has been the battle-ground of one of the bitterest labor wars in many years. The labor war was in the rubber plants. Ten years ago two of every three tires sold in America were made in Akron. Today Akron turns out only one-third. Ten thousand jobs in the rubber plants have gone forever.

They have gone forever because the producers have shifted a large part of their production to other places. Firestone has built new plants at Memphis and Fall River and is said to have stepped up production at other plants.

The Goodyear company has new plants at Jackson, Mich., and Windsor, Vt. It too has stepped up its production at Cumberland and its Alabama and California plants. Other companies followed the same policy.

The employers have many millions invested in their Akron plants and cannot shift to other places without great expenditure and loss. But they could shift—go away from the scene of so much trouble and war. But the workers and their homes are trapped in Akron; the business enterprises built on the existence of the rubber industry there are trapped there and must take their losses.

Robert L. Bisby

The more abundant life has come to Robert L. Bisby, well known Santa Ana business man, civic leader and friendly citizen. His unexpected passing into the continuation of that life beyond came with sudden swiftness to his wide friendships. He passed away amid the environment dear to his own heart, sinking into that restful slumber which awakes in the presence of Him who doeth all things well.

For more than a quarter of a century "Bob" Bisby has been active in the good things Santa Ana has accomplished. His conspicuous place in the community gave him opportunity to contribute to the progress of the city. He availed himself of that opportunity, which he regarded more as an obligation, and to the thousands to whom he served as host, he left an impression reflecting the cultural and substantial value of our community. He served in many capacities of public weal, and served well.

There is many a personal loss in the passing of "Bob" Bisby. Those who knew him best liked him most. Others will come to find a welcome in our hearts, but none to take his place.

His contributions to this city were probably more regrettably conspicuous when the city was much younger. He believed in his vision, lived to see its consummation, and rejoiced in its material progress, but beyond that intrinsic value, he warmed to the strong friendships he made, and enjoyed the service he was able to give.

It is not difficult to imagine that with Tennyson, he would say:

"Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me,
And may there be no moaning of the bar
When I put out to sea."

The Community Chest

Officially under way tomorrow, the annual Community Chest campaign can be more than a charity drive—depending on how we look at it.

Judged from the standpoint of cold cash alone, the Chest is worth supporting, and worth putting over the top. At one time it takes care of some eight or nine agencies which, without the Community Chest, would be staging periodical drives for funds and wasting a good deal of valuable time and effort.

It's cheaper, too, to prevent human misery than to try to cure its results. For example, it costs around $600 a year to maintain each of Orange county's boys who is committed to Preston school of industry. How much less would it have cost to keep that boy on the right track at home?

But in a larger social sense, it's many times better to keep our neighbors from going over the edge. As a matter of community pride—not just raising $33,830 but the good that money will do—the Chest drive is well worth while.

Once a year we get a chance to go back into the neighborly spirit of things, fast disappearing in modern life, and to show how we, as a community, can get together for a commendable purpose.

This year's entire goal amounts to less than $1 a person. Half of that will be raised by large donations. The rest is up to us.

Just like New York to claim that her day of peace prayer won at Munich.

Fair Enough

By

NEW YORK.—It seems to be generally agreed by now that the treaty of Versailles was a great tragedy, but recent history gives reason to regret the lenience rather than the severity of the terms. After all, the Germans got out of the war without the destruction of a stick or stone in their own country. There has been no mass deportations of their people, no wanton murder of the mayors of their villages or other hostages in reprisal for natural acts of patriotic resistance against invasion.

This has been the experience of Belgium and northern France at the hands of the Germans, but as soon as the fighting was over the allies, surveying the damage and the records of cold-blooded vandalism, found that they lacked the brutality to pay the Germans in their own coin.

But the Versailles treaty has done the world no good, and it is childish to argue or hope that the world would have been any better off today if the conditions of Versailles, which since then have been condemned as vindictive, had been omitted.

The error of Versailles was that Germany was allowed to escape all feeling of the damage that was inflicted on the invaded country.

The allies attempted to collect lawful damages from a slippery defendant who first tried to argue that it had not been his fault and then went into bankruptcy to avoid payment.

But, aside from material considerations, Germany never was made to feel war. If the conquerors had carried out deliberately and laboriously on the German countryside the same wanton destruction that the Germans inflicted, if they had gone through the German factories looting and smashing, if they had pillaged German homes of their furniture, bedding and all the personal possessions that make a home and shipped the stuff to Belgium and France and then had blown up those factories and homes before the eyes of the people, the lesson would have been more impressive.

It is unfair to hold against the French politicians and people of the post-war period the charge of stupid vindictiveness. Any people who had suffered so would have wanted revenge, and history has now shown that it was a mistake to forego revenge.

Twenty years later Germany revives more shockingly brutal than ever before and inflicts upon the Czechs the same conditions of loot and mass deportations that the allies forebore to impose on Germany. Remembering what his own country did to the French territory, Hitler took precautions to prevent the Czechs from doing the same in the Sudeten country as they withdrew.

It is a tragedy that they could not blow up all the military works, demolish all houses, factories and shops and shoot against the wall numerous selected leaders of the German section in their country as they fell back, not for any good that this might have done but for any service to right and justice but merely to hamper Hitler and impress upon the Nazis the horrors of war.

Germany came out of the big war with nothing worse than some hunger and humiliation, and now that the treaty of Versailles has been completely unwritten the upshot of that great war is that the victors gave the party and suffered all the damage. Germany will never learn to hate war until a war is fought on German soil.

What Other Editors Say

MODERN-MEDIAEVAL

We are seeing the civilized and the uncivilized uses of man's mastery of nature in the present crisis of wars and rumors of wars. On the one side is such an instant dissemination of knowledge and impressions that it would make war impossible if men everywhere were free. On the other side is the domination of great nations by men of mediaeval mind and mood, preparing to hurl the whole resources of modern science for the destruction of the civilization that produced them.

We have mastered nature before we earned the right to use it, by first mastering ourselves.

The newspapers bring us the news more fully and promptly than ever before, and the wire-photo carries pictures of the world's events almost while they are occurring. In a few years, or less, television will follow.

Already the radio makes us personally present at the councils of nations. We do not need to be told on anybody's authority that Benes and Jan Masaryk are gentlemen and patriots and that Hitler is a blustering bully. We have heard them both, as if we were across the table from them, and have judged for ourselves. What were once secrets of inner cabinets are now shared by all the world—except those to whom dictators close the doors of knowledge. If all ears were as free to hear as the ether waves are to reach them, there could be no war.—Chester Rowell in San Francisco Chronicle.

Science News

WASHINGTON.—(Science Service)—A helicopter whose top speed will be 160 miles an hour, markedly in excess of hitherto existing types, is planned by a group of Philadelphia engineers, it was learned here.

Featuring a completely streamlined fuselage and rotor supports for the first time in recent rotary wing aircraft history, the craft will be modeled after the twin-rotored Focke helicopter with which Hanna Reitsch, noted German woman pilot, has been astounding European aeronautical engineers.

Funds for the construction job are expected to come from the Dorsey bill for aid to the development of rotary-wing aircraft, when and if the appropriation under the bill is actually made, probably at the next session of congress.

The ship will feature the mechanically-feathered rotor developed for the Gyroplanes built during the past few years for the U. S. navy. The mechanically feathered rotor differs from the autogyro rotor in that the angle of attack of the whirling blades is changed as they rotate by cams. The autogyro's blades' angle of attack is changed by the fact that the blades are hinged and swing up and down freely.

This plane, to be equipped with a motor of more than 250 horsepower, will, it is believed, be one of the first rotary wing aircraft fitted with a relatively large engine. The engine will be enclosed in the fuselage while the two rotors will be mounted at the end of streamlined "wings" that project out and up from the fuselage.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—For some months President Roosevelt has been giving quiet consideration to a worldwide appeal for disarmament. This was discussed with state department advisers last May, but the president decided that the time was not ripe.

But now that the world has looked down into the valley of the shadow of death, into the very mouths of cannon, as it did last week, Roosevelt figures that popular opinion will support disarmament as never before.

Another important factor favoring disarmament now, which did not exist during earlier disarmament conferences, is that the armies of the great continental powers are much nearer equality. It should now be easier for them to scale down on the basis of equality.

For years during earlier disarmament attempts, the French were far superior, Germany had no appreciable army. Now the Nazis, although no stronger numerically, have a more powerful air force and more modern weapons. The ex-allied countries, on the other hand, have greater resources and raw materials from which to build.

The president may try to take advantage of this with a vigorous appeal for peace, plus the complete cleanup of Europe's outstanding sore spots, plus reduction in the weapons of war.

Note—Chief obstacle to such a program is the fact that few of the ex-allied statesmen trust Hitler. This distrust was intensified in the mind of Prime Minister Chamberlain during his conferences with the German chancellor, and there is no doubt that it exists in the general expectation in official circles that the Czechoslovak agreement will be a mere stepping stone from which Hitler will go on to other fields of conquest.

Camera-Cabinet
The newsworld shots of the cabinet now being shown are the first moving pictures ever taken of the cabinet as a body. Cameramen urgently requested permission to "shoot" this group in session over the war crisis.

The president said he would allow it only if the camera corps would pick one "still" man and the newsworld man from all the agencies, and let these two alone be admitted to take shots for the crowd.

The cameramen balloted, and chose the dean of each group. The "still" man took with him the cameras of his colleagues, exposed their plates as well as his own. The newsworld man used one machine only, took about 130 feet of film, which was printed in copies for other agencies.

Note—Though the pictures show a cabinet of ten present in addition to the president, there was one absentee—Jim Farley. The tenth was Harry Hopkins, not actually a member of the cabinet. The president has arbitrarily given Hopkins the cabinet status he would have had as head of the new welfare department if the reorganization bill had passed.

Peace Psychology
With one exception, the president personally was responsible for his international appeals which culminated in the Munich conference.

Roosevelt himself drafted the first message to Hitler and Benes, wrote it out in long-hand late at night, then called in Secretary Hull to see what he thought of it. The second cable to Hitler was first drafted in the state department.

ments in the manner Hull has of writing these messages. Four or five people put down on paper their idea of what should be sent and the best parts of each are put together in a final form.

When this was sent over to the White House, however, the president revamped large parts of it, inserting some pungent phrases of his own.

Perhaps more important than the text was the timing of the messages. If they had come too early they might have been ignored. If they had been delayed too long, war might have broken. Of the timing, Roosevelt himself was the sole judge. His cabinet was merely summoned and told what was happening.

On one important point the president accepted the lead of the British. This was the private appeal to Mussolini, which was sent after receiving a trans-Atlantic phone call from Ambassador Joe Kennedy in London.

The suggested psychology was to pat Duce on the back, appeal to his vanity, return him to the limelight when Hitler had shoved him, making him the saviour of the world.

State department boys indicate that the telegram to Mussolini was not made public because it was so flattering that the public reaction in the United States would have been disastrous.

Anyway, the flattery worked.

Sacks Of Dust May Block Mine Explosions

WASHINGTON.—(By Science Service)—Clouds of inert dust form an effective way of preventing and limiting disastrous coal mine dust explosions, it is announced by the U. S. bureau of mines here.

Coal miners may shortly see strange paper bags on little platforms near the ceilings of mines, if the new method, just investigated by the bureau, is widely adopted. The paper bags contain limestone treated so that it does not absorb water. When the first shock wave of an explosion sweeps down a coal mine and blows coal dust with it, the vibration makes these bags fall off their teetering platforms. A wire through the bag rips it open and down falls a dusty shower of inert rock powder.

This dust barrier wall, as it is called, has two functions. If it falls into coal dust so heated that it is about to explode, the rock dust will absorb heat and act to lower the temperature below the ignition point of the coal dust and thus help to prevent further explosion. Also the presence of a sizable mass of inert rock powder in the air helps dilute the coal dust and makes the explosion less severe.

"Keep the change."
"All is forgiven."
"Sleep until noon."
"Here's that five."
And the saddest were:
"Out of gas."
"Dues not paid."
"Funds not sufficient."

The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our ruler. If public opinion is active, the politicians and people sit up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent, fair discussion of our problems is immensely useful. So that every citizen may have his say and contribute to the formation of public opinion, the Journal invites letters to The Mailbag. Please limit communications to 350 words. The editor reserves the right to shorten all letters in excess of that length.

Fisher Replies

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—(Special)—Professor Irving Fisher, Yale economist, said today that his name has been used without his authority to promote the "30-Every-Thursdays" old age pension plan in California, and that, far from approving the plan, he strenuously opposes it. Thomas L. Stokes, correspondent, in a recent article from Los Angeles, reported that Dr. Fisher is being represented as "the evangel of the new gospel" though he had nothing to do with California's version of this present movement.

Professor Fisher said today: "For many months I have been protesting in vain against the misuse of my name in support of this crazy plan, and have asked California radio stations and newspapers to help put a stop to this misrepresentation."

"This plan, if adopted, is so sure to fail and to do harm—including harm to the aged, whom it is supposed to help—that I am seriously thinking, if it can be managed, of going to California to help fight it, just as I did my utmost to defeat the Townsend plan when it was so great a menace."

"It is true that the form of dollar bill which the plan proposes is apparently copied from my book, 'Stamp Scrip'; but the conditions proposed for its issue in California find no sanction in that book nor in any other writings of mine."

"The form of scrip suggested by me, following Silvio Gesell, has worked successfully when such conditions as those prescribed in 'Stamp Scrip' have been observed."

"But no such scrip plan as is now proposed could be made to work by a state. A stamp scrip can be made to work only in individual communities or by the federal government, as proposed in the emergency of 1933 by Sen. Bankhead and Rep. Pettengill. Thus in a city a limited amount of stamp scrip can be made to circulate, if a sufficient number of retail stores, workers, factories, banks and the city authorities pledge themselves to accept it during the period in which the issue is in circulation."

Legal Federal Laws
"Again, the federal government could make it work with the help of the legal tender laws. But the state of California cannot use either method—the method of sufficient voluntary pledges or the method of compulsory legal tender."

"The California proposal is to give $30 every Thursday to every one of its 1,100,000 citizens above 50 years of age. Aside from the false philosophy which would encourage every man over 50 to lay down his tools, and consider himself entitled to live off the sweat of the young, and aside from the fact that our most experienced and valuable workers and professional men are probably over 50 let us consider some simple economic implications of this unreasonable proposal.

"Thirty dollars a week for 1,100,000 persons means $33,000,000 a week, or $1,700,000,000 a year. The total currency and coins in circulation at this moment is around $6,500,000,000 for the entire United States. That is, we have about $52 for every man, woman and child. "For California's 18 million inhabitants that would be about $312,000,000. The pension plan proponents want to increase California's circulation of currency more than five times within one year, and they believe it will bring prosperity to all. It would mean ruin."

I'LL TELL YOU....

BY BOB BURNS

If you'll take the trouble to examine the speeches that've made history in this country, you'll find that the ones that done the most good and that have been remembered the longest are the simplest. That's because the people didn't have any trouble understanding what the fella was talkin' about.

Not long ago, when my cousin Wafford was visitin' me, I tried to impress him with a little high-tone language so I says, "Wafford, I'm goin' over to town to get a piece of meat and while I'm gone, you pare the potatoes."

When I got back, I found Wafford in the middle of the kitchen with potatoes spread out all over the floor. I says, "What in the world are you doing? I told you to pare the potatoes!" He says, "Well, I did pare off most of 'em." Then he held up a little potato and said, "But to save my life, I can't find the mate to this little one!"

Girls, would you like to know what one of the most successful presidents of a girls' college in the world says about you?

He is James Madison Wood, president of Stephens college, Columbia, Mo. You've heard of one of his students—Joan Crawford. And you heard of one of his former teachers—Maude Adams, the famous stage actress.

He has made a special study of girls and their problems. He says that they have 7400 problems. Yes, that is right. I did not add a cipher too many.

For instance, he says that a girl's greatest problem in life is getting a husband. When he first said this he was bitterly denounced from one end of this country to the other. Now that is accepted, and he is recognized as one of our greatest leaders in helping girls to live happy, successful lives.

He has shocked people by what he teaches. For instance, he imported a beauty expert from New York to teach the girls how to dress their hair becomingly. But his plan works. More of his girls get married the first five years out of college in the United States.

I asked him to send me ten suggestions vital to girls. That is, ten rulings for helping you to find success and happiness.

Here they are, exactly as he sent them to me without the change of a comma:

1. As a college graduate, you will be judged not so much by what you know as by what you can do and how well you do it.

2. Be sparing in your criticism of others. There is enough snobishness in one's nature without deliberately cultivating it.

3. Do not let your emotional life control you—unless you have first learned to control your emotions. Feel deeply, but think clearly.

4. To look your best you must be your best. Poise and personality are nine points of "good appearance."

5. Be able to do something useful and do it well. Even if you never have to make your own way financially, you will experience a deep sense of satisfaction in being equipped for independence.

6. Choose a man you can respect for his ability and character. The way he wears his manners is more important than the way he wears his clothes.

7. Learn to converse intelligently and pleasantly. Small talk is useful at tea parties but is a questionable diet for daily conversation.

8. Don't pay too much for popularity. Think honestly; maintain a high sense of values; and set your standards accordingly.

9. Keep your confidence in yourself; you will need it not only while you are in college but much more after you graduate.

10. Don't be afraid of an intelligent inquiry into the religious values of life. Whether you know it or not, you are constantly developing a spiritual creed. And your ultimate philosophy of living will be your religion.
